General description of NLSDays Innovation posters for academic projects

NLSDays Innovation is a poster session highlighting academic projects from Nordic universities with commercial potential. The selection of high-potential projects will be showcased as posters and compete for the Nordic Innovation Award. The posters will be presented to the conference audience of approximately 1,800 delegates, including pharma scouts and investors. The audience and the jury will vote for the best poster, which will receive an award during NLSDays' Closing Ceremony.

The application period is now open with the deadline on 30 September 2023.
